INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

“School administration and innovation in teaching practices in the context of educational reform in Vietnam and global landscape”

Education plays a pivotal role in advancing sustainable development goals across economic, cultural, and various societal domains. Within the context of Vietnam's educational renovation and the profound influence of digital development, digital transformation, and artificial intelligence, there is a compelling need for adaptive changes in educational activities, leadership capacity, and school administration. These changes are imperative to align with and effectively navigate the evolving landscape.

The conference, themed “School administration and innovation in teaching practices in the context of educational reform in Vietnam and global landscape”, is designed as a vital forum to create an open space for administrators, scholars, educators, postgraduate students, and other stakeholders from both Vietnamese and international educational institutions to share research findings, experiences, insights, theories, practices, and policies pertaining to leadership, school administration, and the innovation of educational activities within the contemporary landscape. Discussions will encompass both the depth and breadth of challenges and opportunities in leadership and school management, along with new educational methods that meet the needs of the era of globalization, digitalization, artificial intelligence, and the changing educational landscapes of Vietnam and the world.
